Email Migration Handover

PureMed Aesthetics — care@puremed.uk

Prepared by: Main Stage Studio Date: 23 June 2026

---

What's changed

---

Your email address is the same: care@puremed.uk

What's changed is where it lives. Your inbox has moved from Stack Mail to Google Workspace, which means you now access it through Gmail. Everything that was in your old inbox has been carried across.

Accessing your email

---

In a browser: Go to mail.google.com (<https://mail.google.com>) and sign in with care@puremed.uk and your Google Workspace password.

On your phone: Open the Gmail app. Tap your profile photo, then Add another account, select Google, and sign in with care@puremed.uk. Your inbox will sync automatically.

On a desktop email client (Outlook, Apple Mail, etc.): Use these settings if you prefer a desktop client:

| Setting         | Value                          |
|-----------------|--------------------------------|
| Incoming (IMAP) | imap.gmail.com, port 993, SSL  |
| Outgoing (SMTP) | smtp.gmail.com, port 587, TLS  |
| Username        | care@puremed.uk                |
| Password        | Your Google Workspace password |

---

A few things worth knowing

---

Your old emails are here. Everything from the previous inbox was migrated across, including Sent, Drafts, and older messages. If something looks missing, check All Mail in the left sidebar — Gmail archives rather than deletes.

Spam lives in a different place. Gmail calls it Spam, not Junk. Same thing. Check it occasionally for anything that might have been caught by mistake.

Search is excellent. Gmail's search is fast and thorough. If you can't find something, search for it before assuming it's missing.

Two-step verification is on. Your account is protected by 2-step verification, which sends a code to your registered phone when you sign in from a new device. This is a security feature, not a problem.

Sending from care@puremed.uk

---

When you compose a new email in Gmail, it will send from care@puremed.uk automatically. No extra setup needed.

If you use multiple Google accounts in the same browser, make sure you're signed into the right one before composing. The account name shows in the top right corner.

Managing your account — the admin console

---

As the account owner, you have access to the Google Workspace admin console at admin.google.com (<https://admin.google.com>). Sign in with care@puremed.uk.

This is where you manage the account itself, as distinct from your email inbox. The main things you'll use it for:

Users: Your account currently has one user, care@puremed.uk. You can view, edit, or reset the password for this account from the Users section.

Billing: Your subscription details, billing date, and payment method are under Billing in the admin console. Google Workspace Business Starter is billed monthly per user.

Security: Two-step verification settings, account recovery options, and password policies live under Security.

You don't need to use the admin console day-to-day. It's there when something needs changing at the account level rather than the inbox level.

---

Adding a new user

---

Your account is on Google Workspace Business Starter, which is priced per user. Currently you have one user.

To add a new user:

1. Go to admin.google.com (<https://admin.google.com>)
2. Click Users in the left menu
3. Click Add new user
4. Enter the name and the email address you want to create (for example, hello@puremed.uk)
5. Set a temporary password — the new user will be prompted to change it on first sign-in

Cost implication: Each additional user adds one licence to your monthly bill. Business Starter is currently £7 per user per month (excluding VAT) on a flexible monthly plan. Adding one user takes your monthly cost from £7 to £14, plus VAT.

There is no minimum user requirement. You can add and remove users at any time, and your bill adjusts the following month.

If something isn't right

---

Can't sign in: Go to accounts.google.com (<https://accounts.google.com>) and use the Forgot password option. You'll need access to your recovery email or phone number.

Missing emails: Check All Mail first. If something still looks missing, contact Main Stage Studio before making any changes.

Technical issues with the account: Google Workspace support is available at support.google.com/a (<https://support.google.com/a>). Your account is on the Business Starter plan.

Anything else: Get in touch with Main Stage Studio and we'll pick it up from there.
